

Plan your perfect day!

1 year before

- Set a date and mark it on the calendar!
- Book the ceremony and after-party locations.
- Choose your dream theme or color scheme.
- Bling or budget? Calculate the costs with your parents.

6 months before

- Avoid dress stress! Order your glam gown and your mom's ensemble now.
- Pick your damas and chambelanes and keep them in the loop. (Send them e-cards on Mis Quince!)
- Talk to padrinos about contributions.

3 months before

- Pick out dresses for damas and get them ordered.
- Purchase (or start making) decorations and favors.
- Check out tuxedo styles for chambelanes.

2 months before

- Buy your tiara and other accessories.
- Try on your gown and schedule alterations if necessary.
- Select music (check out Mis Quince's playlists).
- Choreograph and practice dances with both your court of honor and your dad.
- Tell guys which tuxedo to order and where.

1 month before

- Book two hair styling appointments – one to practice with the tiara and another for the real deal.
- Have your damas fitted for their dresses.

2 weeks before

- Fend off feet agony! Walk around in your quince heels.
- Double check that all tuxedos have been ordered.
- Make sure damas pick up dresses.

1 week before

- Be wrinkle free! Have your gown pressed and pick up the crinoline underskirt, if rented.
- Remind guys to pick up tuxedos.
- Get a mani/pedi a day or two before the big event.
- If you are expecting your period, be prepared! Get the 411 at beinggirl.com.

The big day!

- Eat breakfast!
  - Enjoy your superstar quinceañera!
